

A NIGHT OF TENNIS AT THE CASCADES

On March 4, Loriet CEO Mehdy Karbid and his daughter visited the beautiful Cascades Tennis Facility for an enjoyable evening of skill work, a Loriet tennis exhibition, and potluck style dinner complete with games, giveaways and ice cream.

The evening started with players taking part in rotational tennis drills designed to improve different areas of their game. After the clinic portion of the evening, the players gathered on court 1 for the second annual Loriet tennis exhibition by Mehdy and Sofia Karbid. Grinning from ear to ear, 5-year-old Sofia played for the participants who applauded her enthusiasm and game. Spectators cheered as Sofia triumphantly celebrated by throwing her hands in the air after the final point.

After the tennis exhibition, the players and coaches enjoyed a delicious potluck dinner. After dinner, games and giveaways, the Tennis Director of the Cascades playfully surprised all the participants with an ice cream desert via ice cream truck.

“Jon, the coaches and the Cascades tennis community make this an event Sofia and I look forward to each year,” said Mehdy Karbid, CEO Loriet Sports.

Sofia Karbid prepares to hit a volley during the evening's tennis exhibition.

Cascades Tennis Director Jon Bloom, Loriet CEO Mehdy Karbid and 5-year-old Sofia Karbid.